FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Boston Natural Areas Network
Presents a new way to look at the Rose F. Kennedy Greenway

Part of the summer-long Boston Natural Areas Network Seed, Sow & Grow Program Series

BOSTON, MA – July 1, 2010 –

Join BNAN for a unique look at the Edible Plants of the Rose F. Kennedy Greenway. You are invited to stroll the Rose F. Kennedy Greenway for a free tour with an inside view of one of the city's most unique green spaces on Tuesday, July 13, 6:00 P.M. – 7:30 P.M. The walk begins at the Greenway Conservancy Tent, Boston Public Market at Dewey Square, Boston. (South Station MBTA) Join Tom Smarr, Superintendent of Horticulture, The Rose Kennedy Greenway Conservancy who will lead an evening stroll along the Rose F. Kennedy Greenway highlighting the multi-dimensional plants that offer color, texture, form and flavor in this urban landscape. Wear comfortable walking shoes, and bring water and a camera. The program is free but requires registration. To Register contact BNAN at 617-542-7696 or info@bostonnatural.org.

Boston Natural Areas Network is a non-profit organization dedicated to bringing together local residents, partner organizations, public officials and foundations to preserve, expand, and enhance urban open space, including community gardens, greenways, and urban wilds.
