Popular event hosted by MA Department of Conservation & Recreation and Boston Natural Areas Network

BOSTON, MA, October 4, 2010 – One of the most unique and popular Halloween-related events – the Great Pumpkin Float – will take place this year on Saturday, October 16th at Pope John Paul II Park in Dorchester. This is the ninth year of a Dorchester tradition when hundreds of costumed children and their families, as well as enthusiastic individuals will participate in the parade of illuminated jack-o-lanterns down Davenport Creek to the Neponset River.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., participants can bring a 6 – 8 inch pumpkin that has been carved at home to the Hallet Street entrance to the park to be mounted on a special individual float. Each jack-o-lantern will have a candle inserted and lit before being launched en masse in the water. Floats and candles will be provided. The result will be a beautiful water parade of spooky pumpkins. The event is free and no registration is required. Pumpkins will be collected for composting and floats are recycled for next year's event making this a green tradition. New this year will be an event check in held at the Hallet Street entrance to park. RAIN DATE IS SUNDAY, OCTOBER 17th AT 5:30 P.M.

“The Great Pumpkin Float gives everyone a real appreciation for the natural wonders of this park while enjoying a unique and peaceful Halloween event. It’s fun for all ages!” said Valerie Burns, President of BNAN.
