Monday Movies
Featuring Fun and Drama Surrounding Gardens and Healthy Food brought to you for FREE by Boston Natural Areas Network

BOSTON, MA, December 22, 2010 –

Boston Natural Areas Network invites you to FREE series of movies that focus on community gardens, the people who make them possible, food systems and the importance of eating fresh, healthy foods. Fun, drama and information are combined in this interesting Monday evening series. The movies, locations and times are as follows:

Monday, January 3rd, 6:00pm: Codman Square Library – "Polycultures: Food Where We Live"
A movie featuring diverse communities around Cleveland, Ohio coming together to grow a more sustainable and local food system.

Monday, January 24, 4:00pm: Uphams Corner Library - "What's On Your Plate" A movie about kids from New York City and food politics. Especially good film for youth.

Monday, January 31, 6:00pm: Codman Square Library- "DIRT!" A movie that discusses the environmental, economic, social and political impact that soil has around the world

Monday, February 7th, 6:00pm: Codman Square Library - "The Garden" A compelling story focusing on the country's largest urban farm in Los Angeles, with backroom deals, land developers, celebrities, green politics, money, poverty, power, and racial discord.

Monday March 7th, 6:00pm: Codman Square Library - "Fresh" A movie celebrating the farmers, thinkers and entrepreneurs across America who are re-inventing our food system.

The Movies are sponsored by Boston Natural Areas Network www.bostonnatural.org for more information please contact BNAN at 617-542-7696 or emailing at info@bostonnatural.org.
