Snowshoe Gladeside Urban Wild in Mattapan on February 23rd

Free snowshoes to borrow for February Break fun!

BOSTON, MA – February 8, 2011 – Snowshoeing is a fun way to get outdoors and be active during the wintertime, and it can be done even in the middle of the city! Boston Natural Areas Network will host an introductory snowshoe program on Wednesday, February 23, 2011 at 1:00 p.m. in the Gladeside Urban Wild in Mattapan. This program is ideal for families and youngsters who would like to try out this fun activity during their February school vacation. Free snowshoes are available to borrow, in both adult and youth sizes. Call to reserve a pair! The teens of Vigorous Youth of Mattapan Food & Fitness Coalition are also collaborators in this winter fitness program.

The woodlands surrounding the trail will provide a beautiful backdrop for our walk. Comfortable warm clothing and boots are recommended. Even without snow, we'll enjoy a winter wildlife walk. The group will meet at the end of Lorna Road, which is off of Morton Street and a short walk from the Morton and Seldon Street bus station. Please call BNAN for specific directions. Reservations are required to borrow equipment; contact BNAN at 617-542-7696 or info@bostonnatural.org.
